ABOUT US:

The Cree Board of James Bay is responsible for providing health and social services for all people who live permanently or temporarily in the Eeyou Istchee region, Cree territory of James Bay. It is a remote region in northern Quebec made up of 9 communities of the Cree Nation, indigenous people of nearly 18,000 people.

The health and social services offered are first-line services provided in the 9 local CMCs (CLSC-type clinics / dispensaries) as well as second-line services through the regional hospital in Chisasibi. When 2nd line and 3rd line services cannot be provided in the community, patients are transported to establishments affiliated with RUIS McGill.
